

Automatic Animal Feed Production Line

Animals are very important for livelihood in agrarian economies. Wholesome food is important for cattle and other domestic animals. With proliferation of new equipment manufacturers, it is now possible to plan a completely automated plant at a reasonable cost. Capacity and type of feed can be adjusted for each individual requirement. This is a very profitable project with short payback period as the raw materials are available locally in most countries. Please contact us at aysunny@yahoo.com

Automatic animal feed production line flow chart

The specification and technical sheet of machines

Factory Photos:

